THURSDAY EVENING, AUGUST ", 1879

A SMILING farmer to day remarked, after speaking of the magnificent wheat crop and the money it is bringing, together with the splendid prospect for corn, "This will be a mighty poor sea son for Democrats"

PARSON NAURY IS grieved over the effect that the good crops will have upon political affairs this year The bounty of a kind Providence seems to have a very discouraging effect upon the Democcatic and Greenback leaders

Hox George Scrougs, U S Consul at Hamburg, writes to the Champaign Gazette concerning the crop failure in Germany, confirming the gloomy reports received from other sources He says that during the past fifty days it has raised more or less for over forty days.

We learn that some parties are try ing to create opposition to the proposi tion to refund the county debt, by fool ishly saying that there is a scheme in it to make money for somebody. So it is --- scheme by which every taxpayer in Macon county will be enabled to save money every year The opposit on to the plan can only grow out of two thmes -ignorance or pure meanness

ONE Colonel Keogh, formerly a resi dent of Wisconsin, but who has resided in Greensboro, North Carolina, since the war, where he is publishing a Re publican paper, recently stated that northern men who settled in that state were not safe. The Democratic papers thereupon pitched into the colonel and charged him with trying to moure the state. To this charge he replies as fol-What we have said was said more in sorrow than in inger, but it is true all the same, and we do not propose to re truet one word of it. The issue now raised is simply an 14sue of fact, and though we are very reluctant to enter upon a controversy upon this subject, we have the same means at hand to de tend ourselves. In support of the state ment in our former issue, which has raised this commotion, we append a list of persons who came to this state since the war and settled not far from Greens boro, and, having found that they could not live here, have sacrificed the property remaining to them and gone away disgusted. The list includes only adult males, and does not include women and children We published only the names of those we remember, and we regret to say many others have gone whose names we do not recall, and that there are others auxious to sell out and go, whose names we do not mention for fear of preventing the sale of their property and otherwise injuring them

The list as published includes the names of seventy heads of families, and none of them are negroes, but white men who had moved from the north for the purpose of making permanent homes, but were compelled to leave on

THE Portland (Mc) Press tells of a greenbacker who while denouncing Secretary Sherman as a Shylock, was asked by a listener 'Who was Shy lock, anyhow?' The indignant orator replied, in withering tones "Well, if you don't know, you had better go home and read your Bible"

() RE THIRD of the voting population of Kentucky cannot read the ticket they vote, and 150 000 children in the state are growing up in ignorance of the mere elements of the English language, says the Louisville (Ky) Courter Jour nal Of course the state went Demo cratic as usual on last Monday

FREEMAN and wife, the Pocasset (Mass) murderers, continue in their magular hallucination A few days after her arrest Mrs Freeman seemed to see the enormity of the deed, and to feel the full force of her bereavement but latterly she has fallen under the old She now thinks her husband did perfectly right, and defends his en tire course Both of them are perfect ly contented in their confinement, and talk rationally on every subject except the murder.

Ma. Lincoun's thoughtfulness of the feelings of others receives a new but not needed, illustration in a letter just printed by the New Haven Palladram which he wrote to a firm of photo graphers in that city, March 14, 1860. He said "Your request to take a pho tographic likeness of me while in your city, was duly received, but at a time when my arrangements were so made

THE Chicago Tribune trots a new Presidential candidate into the field-Elibu B Washburne, of Illinois, of whom it says

If it comes to the dark horse, Wash burne has advantages over all the avail able men in the country to day His public career was of a kind to insure him the lasting respect and confidence of the people In Congress he was the watch dog of the Treasury His con duct as Vinister to France during the trying times of the Franco German war has given him a strong hold upon one of the most numerous and powerful of the political elements in this country, viz everyone who aspires to the chief inagistracy of to day, and his conduct since his retirement from public life has been such as to excite no animosity or antagonism in any quarter. He would find a support from Gen Grants friends scarcely second in enthusiasm to that which they would give Grant him self, and he would escape the suspicion or objectionable association, which is the chief obstacle in the way of Grant's nomination There is no man upon whom the conservative people of the country could unite so well as Wash burne in sacrificing some one clse who was the first choice. He would reconcile the Grant men, the Blame men, the Sherman men, and bring a large follow ing of his own to swell his support

Poisoned Delicactes From the New York Herald

Sanitary boards from time to time supply to the public lists of articles sold as food or to be used in culmary processes which are metaly adulterated or ictually injurious or poisonous. Flavoring extracts commonly count as im portant items in these domestic bills of indictment, and the families in Penn sylvania reported as poisoned by home made ice cream are, perhaps, victims to the essence with which they gave their dainty and piquant taste One ac count, it is true, topresents them as poisoned through the fact that the custard for their cream was 'boiled' in a brass kettle - Lee cream made from custard or the elements of custard is not unknown to art-poor art, however, -but if that custard is boiled, that is to account for the trouble in the human stomuch filled with custard that has been first boiled and then frozen No brass kettle is necessary. We incline to the opinion, however, that these suf ferers were victims to "extracts," which glass bottles, and which pretend to sup ply for from ten to twenty cents quan tities of commodities which, if genu-me would be worth a dollar at least

The theaters in Leadville must be amusing places to visit According to 8 correspondent, at one of the theaters a few evenings ago a man amused him self by pulling the chairs from under the people who sat before him His and Tolhyria the yield of wie will be victims may not have appreciated the joke, but the audience did, and their roars of laughter encouraged the man to persevere He next blew out all the lights he could reach, and nobody said him nay. Then, finding a large stove in his way he kicked it down This was considered quite a hit Finally, drawing a revolver, he fired it into the crowd, sending a ball through the thigh of a spectator Turning on his heel, after this, he walked out unmolested into the street, and was soon lost in the

The thermometer in my room langes from 69° to 75° some places harvesting has begun but enough It does not need any theory unless we have some warm dry weather soon much of the grun must rot in the field On our way, recently, to and from the mountains (two different loutes), I observed that at least half of the wheat we passed was lying firt and tangled in the field, being beaten down by duly are bright colored poisons sold in fincy rain storms. All will be difficult to cut, and much must rot or sprout before it can be secured Adding to this the immense amount of grain and other food crops destroyed by mundations last month, it looks as if America would be called upon to feed Germany, as well as England and France, next winter

The accounts from Russia are also not very encouraging Of ryc the crop will be below the average In Podolia very slight In the Government of Pul towa, noted for its usually large yield of rye, the prespect is a little better, il though the harvest will not equal that of a fairly good year The outlook for wheat is slightly better in some of the governments, but in Kiefl there are some fields that will scarcely repay the labor of harvesting In short, the entire yield of breadstuffs will fall considerably below that of last year

The Teacher's Institute.

In afternoon session yesterday Mr. Trainer gave the method of instructing prima y classes in notation, illustrating by example how to explain the difference between the abstract and concrete, between objects and that which represented objects in numbers. He then gave plans for instruction in addition and multiplication. These were worthy of adoption for their quickness and convenience. This afternoon will be given: "Short Methods in Interest;" 'Explanation of Longitude and Time;" "How to conduct a recitation in Reading," and "School Organization."

There was a good attendance this forenoon. Mr. Brown's classes in reading perform nearly the same work both before and after recess. Both classes experienced some difficulty in pronouncing the following words : Apriori, chimera, chaldron, caldron, chasten, chastisement, chateau, coadjutor, colander, commune, communist, communism, debauchee, debouch, debris, debut, douceur, sclat, encore, erudition, charivari, critique, demoniacal, diocesan and dramatis-persona.

The importance of the territories to the United States was one of the principal topics in the geography class. The vast extent, the rich mines, the timbered slopes, the grassy plains, were named as some of the important characteristics of the territories.

The class in algebra was solving problems in equations containing two unknown quantities. This class seems to be very profitably engaged, and is quite an addition to the institute as also the classes in physical geography and chem-

Dan Rice's Circus.

THE COUNTY FAIR.

Let Everybedy, Young and Old, Lend a Hand to

We wish to remind our readers, in the city and country, that we are going to have one of the biggest county fairscommencing Sept. 23d and ending on the 26th-that we have ever had in this section since the formation of the Macon years ago; provided, every man, woman now and use his or her best efforts to make it a success. This has been an unusually prosperous year with the farmhealthy and commendable rivalry between The yield of wheat has exceeded the and with the blessing of occasional rains the corn crop will be above the average in most localities. Last year there were over 5000 entries on the books of the secretary, and if those interested in the success of the coming fair do as their good sense dictates, a much larger number of entries will be booked before Sept. 23d. Heretofore the fairs have been more largely attended by the city folk. As the price for adults and 25 cents for children, it is confidently expected that the country people will come in larger number, see the races, and view the attractive display of cattle, horses, sheep, swine, poultry, farm products of every kind, orchard products, flowers, needle work and domestic manufactures, and agricultural implements, etc. The grounds are in better repair than they have been for years, and the time for holding the fair is at a season when all can enjoy the occasion. In conclusion, in the language of the secretary, Mr. M. B. Thomas, we repeat that "the bountiful harvests with which we have been blessed and the revival of trade among us, promise a bright future for Macon county. Let us, then, turn aside from our labor during fair week and spend the time in seeing and chjoying the fruits of our labor; let every farmer, mechanic and merchant encourage the agricultural board by their support and presence, and make it the very best fair in central Illinois." That kind of talk has the right ring. Now let everybody do

The indications are that when the different sections of Gould's grand transcontinental system get to working smoothly, the bulk of the Pacific business will go by way of Kansas City over the Kansas Pacific. This, doubtless, is the cause of the bitter warfare the Chicago railway managers are making against any move which helps the Wabash road.

An English firm has made an offer to the Illinois Central railroad to furnish it with the best steel rails at £4 16s per ton, (equal to $24), delivered on board of ship at Liverpool. The freight rate from hoping to find relief. He died at the Liverpool to New York is about $3 per ton. This would make the rate of English steel rails at New York $27, against dren, owned 1,000 acres of improved land $17 charged by American manufactur-14 miles southwest of Decatur, and was ers. To this must be added the duty of worth between thirty and forty thousand $28 per ton, which makes the English price for American steel rails. Since the 1st of June the Pekin, Ifin coln and Decatur road has been running the Peeria and Springfield road without a lease-said lease having expired two months since. John B. Cohrs, of Pekin, attorney for the P., L. & D. R. R., was in Peoria Saturday, trying to extend the lease of the road nine months longer, while Attorney Hopkins insisted that it go back into the hands of a receiver, so that the Western Car Company might get a chance at it. Mr. Cohrs returned home Saturday, not having succceded in letting the road. The largest railway bridge in Europe will be that across the Volga, on the Siberian railway, which is to be completed in another year. It is to have 13 apans of 364 feet each. Most of the piers are to be 185 feet in height.

THE DEAD AT REST.

Funeral and Burial of the Late Mrs. Carrie B. Kinney Yesterday Afternoon.

The funeral of Mrs. Carrie R. Kinney, whose young life went out so peacefully at one o'clock on Tuesday morning, August 5th, took place on yesterday afternoon, at 4 o'clock, from the family residence, on East Eldorado street. It was County Agricultural Board, twenty-two very largely attended by relatives and friends of the deceased and many sympaand child in the county will take hold thizing acquaintances. The services were held in the parlor of the residence, and were conducted by the pastor of the deceased, Rev. Dr. Goodwin, of the First ing community, and there has been a M. E. Church, who took for his text a part of the 16th and 18th verses of the the husbandmen in producing big crops. 24th chapter of Ezekiel: "Son of man, behold I take away from thee the desire farmer's most sanguine expectations; of thine eyes * * * and at even my oats and flax have done remarkably well; wife died." The remarks of the minister were deeply impressive and were in a measure consoling to the stricken husband and sorrowing relatives. He closed by reading appropriate selections from the Bible. Music for the mournful occasion was furnished by a selected choir, composed of the following persons: Messrs, G. F. Wessels, Milton Johnson, Mrs. G. F. Wessels and Misses Sallie Roc and Martha Johnson. The opening of admission has been reduced to 37 cts. hymn was "Sister, thou wast mild and lovely," closing with "When shall we meet again." The remains of the deceased young wife and mother were encased in a beautiful Globe casket, entirely white, on which rested several tender of ferings of flowers. As the twilight deep ened, and the shadows lengthened, and while a large concourse of people gath ered around to pay their last sad homage to the dead, all that remained of Arthur E. Kinney's young wife, to whom he had been married but five short years, was tenderly and lovingly laid away in the grave, in Greenwood Cemetery, the Methodist Episcopal Church burial service having been read by the officiating clergy-

"Yet again we hope to meet thee, When the day of life is fled, There in heaven with joy to greet thee Where no farewell tear is shed."

A Modest Conductor.

A few nights ago Conductor Verrill, of the Virginia & Truckee express train, was going through his car when he noticed a lady asleep in her seat. Her head was resting on the window sill and her feet extended to the aisle. Her dress was so badly disarranged that her ankle and a goodly portion of an ex-quisitely-fashioned ealf were plainly visible, and a number of men a few seats further down were contemplating the scene with evident satisfaction. Mr. Verrill, who always keeps things pretty straight on his train, noticed this, and tapping the woman on the shoulder awoke her.

"Madame, excuse me for disturbing you, but your dress is so disarranged that your ankle is exposed."

"Oh, that makes no difference, sir, replied the lady, smiling sweetly, "it's nothing but cork.

Verrill was in the baggage car in less than four seconds, wiping the perspira-tion from his brow. - Vicginia Chron-
